

Investing in Our System

The complex network of pipes and valves that supply water to homes and businesses across Apple Valley are buried beneath the ground, leaving it out-of-sight and out-of-mind for most people to see and understand. However, at Liberty Utilities, it's a top priority.

Over the next three years, Liberty Utilities plans to replace over 12 miles (more than 64,000 feet) of aging water main, install more than 70 hydrants and replace over 465 service lines that connect our water system to your house or business.

System investments like these are part of a carefully planned infrastructure maintenance and replacement schedule that is designed to ensure the system is consistently maintained throughout its life cycle.

Liberty Utilities invests in infrastructure and maintains our system to protect water quality and ensure we can continue delivering safe, reliable drinking water to customers for generations to come.
